Description	The NSS unit of Trimurti Institute of Pharmacy organized a Breastfeeding Awareness event on February 2, 2021, adhering strictly to COVID-19 safety protocols. This social awareness initiative aimed to educate new and expectant mothers on the importance of breastfeeding, covering its numerous health benefits for both mother and child, including vital nutrients provision, immunity boost, and fostering a stronger emotional bond. Health professionals, including pediatricians and nutritionists, were invited to share insights and debunk common myths surrounding breastfeeding. Interactive sessions were held, offering a platform for mothers to discuss and clarify their doubts. The event emphasized the World Health Organization's recommendations on exclusive breastfeeding for the first six months of life, highlighting its role in child development and maternal health. Attendees received educational materials and resources to support their breastfeeding journey, reinforcing the community's commitment to nurturing healthier generations.

Description	Celebrated on January 24, 2021, the National Girl Child Day event by the NSS unit of Trimurti Institute of Pharmacy was a poignant reminder of the importance of empowering and valuing the girl child within our society. Amidst the ongoing pandemic, the event meticulously followed COVID-19 precautions, ensuring the safety of all participants. The day was marked by a series of workshops, seminars, and interactive discussions aimed at shedding light on issues such as gender inequality, education for girls, and the eradication of child marriage. Speakers from various walks of life, including education, healthcare, and social work, inspired the attendees with stories of remarkable women who have made significant contributions to society. The program also focused on legal rights, health, and the importance of creating supportive environments for girls to thrive. By raising awareness and advocating for the girl child's rights, the event contributed to a broader societal movement towards gender equality.

Description	On December 1, 2020, the NSS unit at Trimurti Institute of Pharmacy conducted an AIDS Awareness Programme, in line with global observations for World AIDS Day. This event, organized with strict adherence to COVID-19 safety measures, aimed to increase awareness about HIV/AIDS, modes of transmission, preventive measures, and the importance of early testing and compassionate care for those living with HIV. Through presentations, guest lectures by healthcare professionals, and survivor testimonies, participants were educated on the latest advancements in HIV treatment and the significance of destigmatizing the condition. The programme also included distribution of informational brochures and red ribbons symbolizing support for people affected by HIV/AIDS. By fostering a supportive dialogue and dispelling myths, the event played a crucial role in promoting public health and empathy within the community.
